Bakersfield Foster Family Agency Opens Sub-office in Covina

Covenant Community Services Inc. (CCSI) is a faith-based, non-profit, social services organization that provides therapeutic foster care, mentoring, family preservation and mental health services to foster children and their families—helping them to succeed. Recently, in an agreement with the Covina Assembly of God, CCSI has opened a sub-office in Covina, CA. This office will come under the CCSI licensure and will replicate the programs offered in Bakersfield. The programs include: foster care, mentoring and Royal Family Kids' Camp.

Covenant Foster Care is a Christ-based nonprofit foster family agency licensed by the State of California. CCSI recruit, train and certify foster families to provide safe, stable and loving homes for children to develop and grow in God's love and grace. The Jeremiah Mentoring Project matches a foster child with a caring adult who can provide friendship, guidance and support during the critical transition from child to adult. Many of the youth in the foster care system are in need of positive role models who will help them achieve their full potential. Royal Family Kids' Camp (RFKC) is a one-week summer camp especially designed for foster children. The camping experience is created for the child's success as the ultimate goal. RFKC utilizes camping strategies and "best practices" in social services while recognizing the needs of abused, neglected and abandoned children. The activities at camp are non-competitive, non-threatening and fun.
